EUROMAIDAN COMMEMORATION - HEAVENLY HUNDRED

Ukrainians recently observed the first anniversary of the EuroMaidan revolution, commemorating the so-called "Heavenly Hundred" Heroes who died during the bloodiest days of the protests in February, 2014. The first deaths on Maidan Nezalezhnosti square during the protests occurred in late January 2014, when two activists were shot and killed during clashes with police. The body of a third protester, kidnapped a few days earlier, was later found on the outskirts of Kyiv.

The deaths continued for another month, culminating on February 20th, when snipers opened fire on protesters, killing over 40 people.

Although a year has passed since the tragic events at Maidan Square, the memories are still fresh for many Ukrainians not only in Ukraine but also around the world.

On February 20th, 2015, Ukrainian Canadian Congress – Alberta Provincial Council held a Commemorative Gathering to remember the Euromaidan Heavenly Hundred in Churchill Square in Edmonton.

Despite the cold weather, many people came out to commemorate the Heavenly Hundred. The Ukrainian Community in Edmonton is one of the largest Ukrainian Diaspora in the world.

Both the Ukrainian Catholic Eparchy and the Ukrainian Orthodox Church of Canada together performed prayers for the Heavenly Hundred.

Прикро, що світ докінця нас не чує.
Прикро, що вони не розуміють, що саме
Україна захищає весь світ від Російського тероризму. Молімося за наших героїв!

Молімося та дякуймо за те, що саме вони нам довели такою великою ціною, хто ми
є. Вони довели нам те, що ще не вмерла України, ні слава, ні воля, що нам братам українцям усміхнеться доля.

Вони дали нам надію, що згинуть наші воріженьки як роса на сонці, запануємо ми браття у своїй сторонці.

Вони довели, що ми браття козацького роду та заради свободи ми можемо покласти душу й тіло

FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 2015 - DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS

Ukrainian Student Rally in support of Nadia Savchenko

On February 1st, 2015 students from MacEwan University and the University of Alberta together with other various Ukrainian organizations, came together in solidarity to stand up for Nadia Savchenko, a Ukrainian military pilot jailed in Russia.

Savchenko was captured by pro-Russian separatists in eastern Ukraine in June and jailed in Russia in July. Russian authorities have charged her with complicity in the deaths of two Russian journalists who were killed covering the Ukraine conflict.

The Ukrainian pilot-turned-MP has now been approved as a PACE member, meaning that she is entitled to international immunity and diplomatic privileges. According to PACE regulations, members which have immunity should be released if detained by member states yet Savchenko has still not been released. They keep Nadia under psychological pressure from investigators seeking to persuade her to plead guilty. There is no justice. Putin is exterminating the Ukrainian nation.

Ukrainian students felt that they had an obligation to show their support and to stand in solidarity for Ukraine. It was a frigid and cold day, but the spirits were lively. The rally began from University of Alberta campus and followed a route down 109th Street to the Legislative Assembly of Alberta. There was a flood of public support along the way with honks and cheers from cars passing by. The students gained significant media attention and were featured on various local news stations.

Given Putin's hostility to rule of law, democracy, and human rights, it is no surprise that the charges brought against Savchenko are completely unjustified. Olia Hyzha, a student, spoke at the protest saying,

"One thing is now very clear to us: women—and especially Ukrainian women—are the ones that Putin fears the most. With taking Nadia Savchenko away, Putin's shows that he does not have any respect whatsoever. He tries showing that Ukrainians are 'weak' while Russians, the elder brother, are 'strong'. Savchenko needs to be freed. She is our hope! She is our NADIA! Разом до перемоги! Слава Україні!

For Our Children.....Ukrainian Day, 2015.....

This year, come out to Ukrainian Day, August 9, 2015 at the Ukrainian Cultural Heritage Village to celebrate our heritage and legacies that we have built for our children, grandchildren, and for generations to come. Let's celebrate and share our Ukrainian culture, traditions, and admire the achievements and memories that our brave first Ukrainian immigrants created. Come enjoy the markets, art exhibits, and afternoon concert.

Dr. Roman Petryshyn retiring from URDC

Dr. Roman Petryshyn's career at MacEwan University has been dedicated to creating a system of resources, expertise and networks to link both students and faculty at MacEwan and other universities to their counterparts in Ukraine and Eastern Europe. He is a trailblazer with incredible foresight, who facilitated several innovative projects and created a unique system of funding through endowments.

Petryshyn came to Alberta from Ontario in 1976, and joined the then-newly formed Canadian Institute of Ukrainian Studies (CIUS) at the University of Alberta. Four years later, he was hired by the Government of Alberta as a Director in the department of Culture.

In 1987, the Ukrainian Resource and Development Centre (URDC) at MacEwan University (formerly College) was borne. In due course, the Centre became a well-respected resource on Ukrainian culture for Ukrainian and non-Ukrainian communities alike, as well as for the internal college community.

To fund the good work of URDC, Petryshyn proved very adept at capitalizing on endowments. As URDC Director, Petryshyn has facilitated the establishment of four endowment funds totaling over six million dollars.

Under Petryshyn's guidance, URDC has provided MacEwan University with an excellent resource for grants, expertise, networking, and research opportunities to all faculty and students. The recently formed URDC Advisory Council is comprised of individuals from all areas of study at MacEwan, making URDC a key conduit to the Ukrainian community for everyone at the University.

In the early 1990s, when Ukraine gained its independence, URDC engaged the MacEwan community in assisting post-secondary institutions in that country, thereby earning itself a reputation as an international project development centre. Together, they have been active in Ukraine since 1992 with projects in agriculture, nursing, business education, language studies and inclusive education.

URDC has made a significant impact locally as well. Petryshyn is a founding member of the Canada Ukraine Foundation (CUF), an organization he envisioned as a public institution for Canada/Ukraine relations. The Alberta Ukrainian Dance Association (AUDA) was created based on research done by URDC. The Alberta Council for the Ukrainian Arts (ACUA) was also initiated with the help of URDC. Finally, Petryshyn helped to establish the Ukrainian Foundation for College Education (UFCE), whose purpose is to raise funds to carry out Ukrainian education projects.

Petryshyn says he is most proud of using the partnership model and enabling the community to play a role with the University. UFCE has signed a Memorandum of Understanding with MacEwan, where UFCE has a say in the business of URDC and the University. He is also very proud of playing a role in empowering groups representing the disabled in Ukraine, and especially of his contribution to Deaf studies.

Petryshyn says his future after retirement will include spending more time doing research into reforms by the Government of Ukraine. In particular, he will focus on reforms in that country's post-secondary institutions.

Ukrainian Bilingual Program in Alberta

Over the 40 years of the Ukrainian Bilingual Program in Alberta, there have been many changes and efforts to support increased language learning for those enrolled. As part of the advancement of the program, since 2006 students in grades 11 and 12 have had the opportunity to take the Ukrainian Language Entrance Exam for International Students. This began due to the commitment of educators, parent societies who help fund the exams, and to a successful partnership with the Ivan Franko National University of Lviv.

In 2014, twenty Alberta students from M. E. Lazerte High School and Austin O'Brien High School in Edmonton, and Archbishop Jordan High School in Sherwood Park took the exam, and almost all received a score well over 60%.

Students with a score of 80% or higher are considered adequately prepared to attend university courses in Ukraine, while those with a 60-80% mark would be accepted but required to continue language learning. Dr. Viktor Krevs from the University in Lviv noted that "the results of the exam proved the suitable level of teaching Ukrainian at Alberta schools and the high motivation of students to learn Ukrainian."

Among educators and professionals in Alberta who helped prepare students and organize the exam were: teachers Stephanie Dowson, Daria Porochiwnyk, Peter Zmewsky, and Vlodko Boychuk; international language consultants Magdalena Tundak and Laurie Kardynal-Bahri from Edmonton Catholic Schools and Elk Island Catholic Schools respectively, Ms. Olena Hartsula, Ukraine's language and culture advisor to Alberta Education, and the staff at the Ukrainian Language Education Centre at the U of A.

On Saturday, November 29, weavers, painters, dancers, musicians and jewellery makers all gathered to celebrate the Ukrainian arts and raise money to send warm clothing, socks, boots and sleeping bags to the volunteer soldiers on the front lines in the Ukraine. “The majority of soldiers are civilians who have volunteered to fight and they are not equipped to deal with the cold temperatures upon them,” explained Olesia Luciwi-Andryjowycz, President of UCC-APC. The Ukrainian Canadian Congress with ACUA partnered together to facilitate this great event. While the Canadian government has committed to supplying gear and clothing to the Ukrainian military, the volunteer brigades are being supplied only by donations sent to them from other countries. “At our last event we raised over $12,500. This resulted in more than 600 kg of goods shipped over to the Ukraine,” said Luciwi-Andryjowycz. A task made easier thanks to Orbit Shipping who has donated the costs to send the parcels, meaning that all money raised in the art show went directly to buying resources for the soldiers.

Iryna and Oleksiy Karpenko, both talented painters who were born in the Ukraine and now live in Edmonton, initiated the show. According to volunteer Romana Latenko with the Alberta Council for the Ukrainian Arts, “The artists themselves came up with the idea. They are the ones who approached us and said ‘let’s sell our art, and 100 % of the proceeds will go to this cause’. Today we have 23 artists who donated and all of them are Ukrainian or have strong connections with the Ukraine.

Everything from paintings to prints, and sculpture to ornate jewellery could be found for sale at the show. Elizabeth Holinaty, a talented weaver, had donated some of her handmade textiles created in rich fall tones. Igor Postash donated a few of his works that portray humorous slices of life with an oddball cast of characters, while the classically trained Oksana Zhelishko donated a stunning oil work showing her favourite subject — women. To Zhelishko, a woman is always strong, alluring, full of mystique, and of course, true inner beauty.

Luba Bilash donated both her jewellery that incorporates her research into ancient designs and art forms, and a collection of beautiful paintings. Though not a classically trained artist, she has been painting and creating since she was small and currently works full time as a designer and visual artist. “I paint depending on my mood. I have very different styles and the one I use depends on how I feel,” Bilash explains, “but ink is one of my favourite mediums.” When asked why she chose to participate in the show, Bilash answered simply, “Our volunteers in Ukraine need help. Our hearts are there, not with just the volunteers, but with all of the people that this affects and so taking part in something like this is quite important for me because I can only do what I can do — this is my way to give back.”

This sentiment was echoed by Anna Chudyk, a talented singer who opened the event by singing both the Canadian and Ukrainian National anthems, “Having just finished being a student at the U of A, I don’t have the money to give, but I do have skills and services to give. And so this is my way of contributing because I can’t financially and it is also a way of building awareness, as a voice is a very powerful thing. These folk songs that I sing have a lot of meaning in terms of war.” Though born in Alberta, Chudyk travelled to Ukraine just months before the standoff in Maidan occurred, “It was just a shock to see these photographs and know that I was just standing there. I made friends with people in Kyiv and I don’t know if they are all right. I know that I have some friends who just emigrated from the Ukraine and hear that they have friends and family who are fighting back home. So it hits me on more of a personal level.”

Volunteers working to support volunteers — pretty inspiring!
